1. Introduction to the Eligibility Framework

Background

Unpaid carers¹ of all ages provide a vital contribution to society. It is important that carers have the opportunity to achieve a better life balance.

The Carers (Scotland) Act 2016 comes into force from 1 April 2018. It introduces new rights for unpaid carers of all ages. Adult carers have the right to have Adult Carer Support Plans. Unpaid carers are given the opportunity to define their own needs and personal outcomes and have a say on the support they need.

Before 1 April 2018	From 1 April 2018
Perth & Kinross Council has the power to provide support to all unpaid carers, but it does not have a legal duty to do so.	Perth & Kinross Council has the power to provide support to all unpaid carers and an additional legal duty to provide support to those unpaid carers whose caring responsibilities have a 'high' or 'very high' impact ² on the carer.

This eligibility criteria framework sets out how a staff member and an unpaid carer will agree on the support given to the carer and whether the support is provided to the carer under a power to support or a duty to support by Perth & Kinross Council.

¹ Unpaid carers are carers who do not provide care under a work contract or as voluntary 'work', regardless of whether they receive welfare benefits, pensions or income from another type of employment. If an individual looks after a family member, relative, friend or neighbour, they are likely to be an unpaid carer.

² The word 'impact' is used in this framework to refer to the effect of caring on the carer as well as the carer's ability to sustain the caring role.

2. Definitions given under the Carers (Scotland) Act 2016

Meaning of “carer”

A “carer” means an individual who either currently provides care or intends to provide care for another individual. The cared-for person might be elderly, or might have an illness, disability, a mental health problem or a substance misuse problem.

Meaning of “adult carer”

An adult carer is a carer who is at least 18 years old and not still at school.

Please see Appendix 1 (page 15) for the actual and full wording of these definitions under the Carers (Scotland) Act 2016.

3. Explaining the Assessment Process

Step One: Request an Adult Support Plan

A carer who wishes to access support can be offered, or they request, an Adult Carer Support Plan.

Step Two: Identify carers needs and personal outcomes

The carer's needs and outcomes will be identified in the carer's Adult Carers Support Plan via conversations between a staff member and the carer.

Step Three: Support is agreed between staff and carer

Staff and the carer will agree on the type and level of support the carer needs to best achieve their personal outcomes.

Step Four: Council provides support to carer

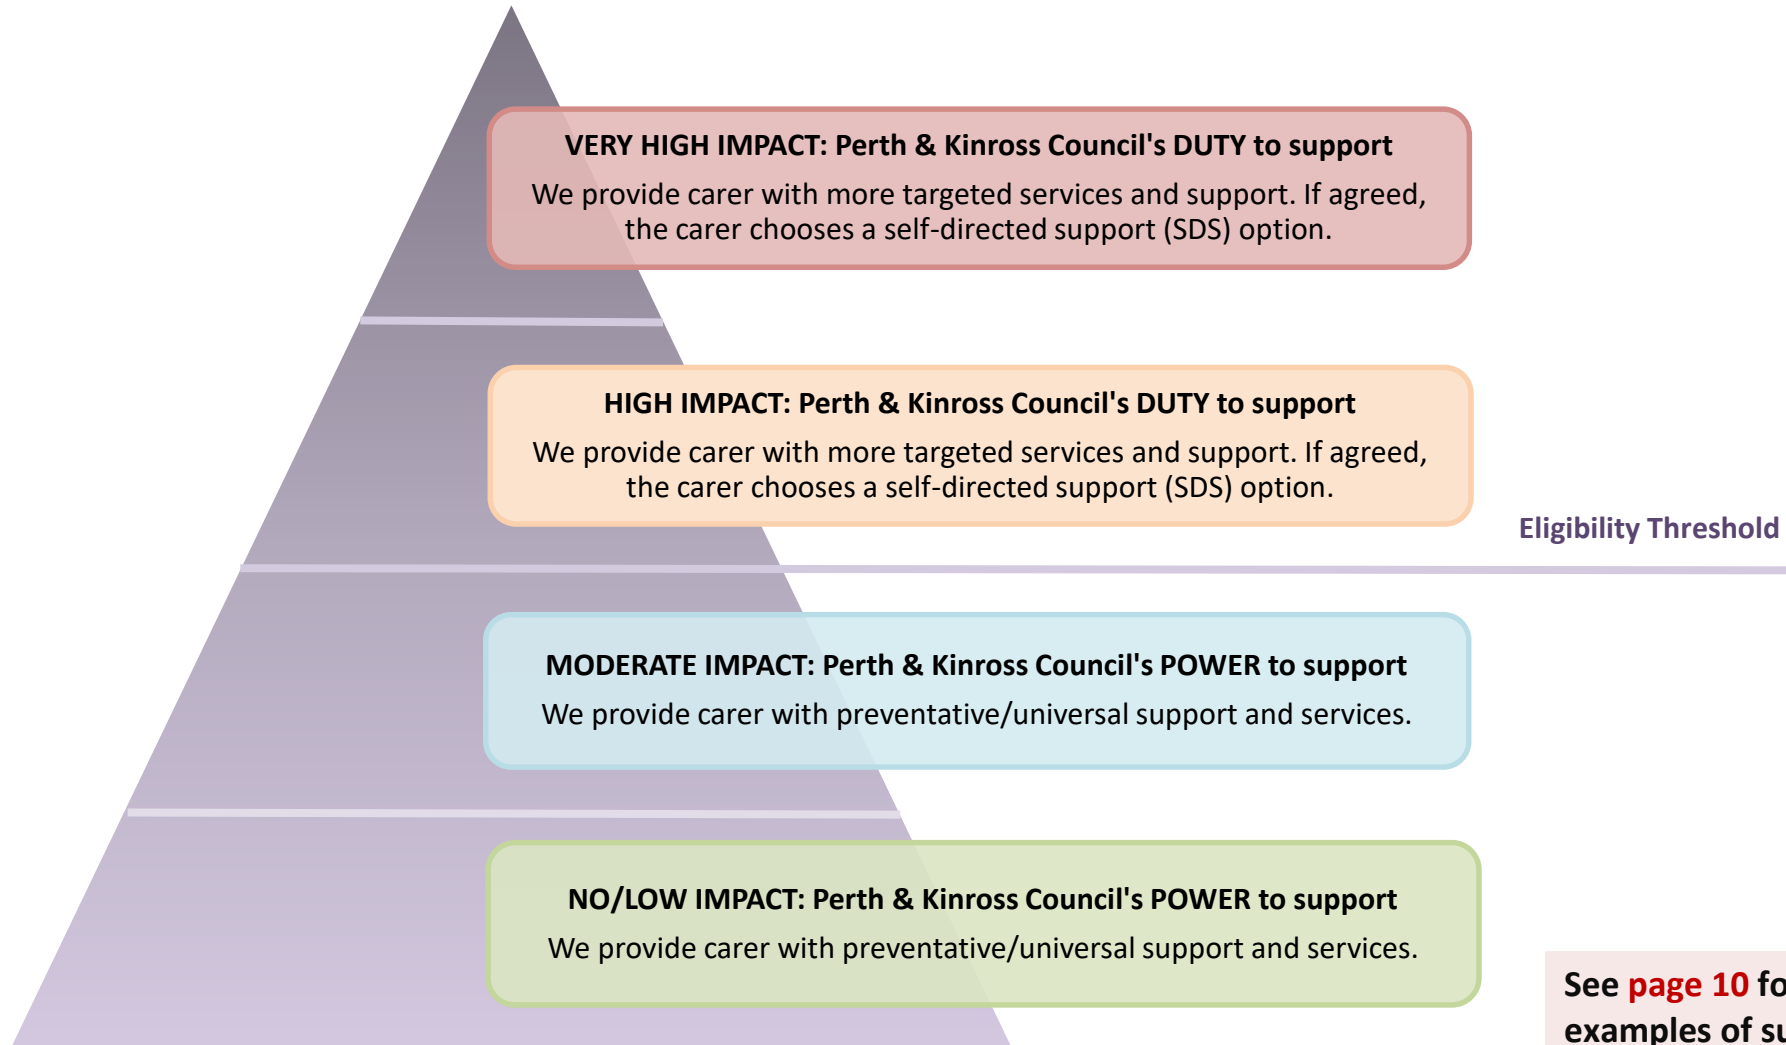

If the caring situation has a high or very high impact on the carer, Perth & Kinross Council will have a duty to provide support to the carer. If the caring situation has low or moderate impact on the carer, Perth & Kinross Council will have power to provide support to the carer. Carers would, as a minimum, have access to universal services.

If 'Self-Directed Support' (SDS) is agreed to meet the support needs of the carer, the carer would choose from the four SDS options allowing them the choice to control, if they wish, how the money is spent on their support (please see footnote of page 10 for more information).

Step Five: Setting a future review date of the assessment

A review date for the Adult Carer Support Plan will be agreed between staff and the carer at this point.

8. Our Aims and Clarification of Terms

Perth & Kinross Council, NHS Tayside, the Health & Social Care Partnership and a range of voluntary organisations will work together with carers of all ages. The framework aims to create a fair and transparent system for determining eligibility. It is designed so that the Perth & Kinross Council's level of support is proportionate and consistent with the carer's level of support needs. Carers with different needs will be treated equally in accessing support and services.

Staff will agree with the carer on:

1. the carer's needs and personal outcomes, and
2. the type and level of support that needs to be given by Perth & Kinross Council to meet those needs and outcomes.

This framework uses a preventative approach. This means that assessments should identify whether there is a foreseeable and likely risk of deterioration in the carer's health or their caring situation. If identified, the steps that will be taken to prevent further deterioration should be noted.

In the case where the carer has fluctuating needs, the carer's needs should be considered over an appropriate⁴ period of time to ensure that all their needs have been accounted for when eligibility is being determined. The review date agreed between staff and the carer will be used to assess whether the carer's needs and outcomes are being appropriately met or whether changes need to be made.

It is important that the carer is given a say into what support they feel is appropriate for their needs. A carer may have high support needs in one area (for example, health and wellbeing) and a low support need in another (for example, living environment). Perth & Kinross Council will have a duty to support those needs of the carer that fall into the high or very high impact categories. Perth & Kinross Council will also have the power to support any additional needs of the carer that falls into the low or moderate impact categories.

⁴ What is deemed appropriate depends on the individual and how their needs fluctuate.

Appendix 1: Definitions under the Carers (Scotland) Act 2016

1. Meaning of “carer”

(1) In this Act “carer” means an individual who provides or intends to provide care for another individual (the “cared-for person”).

(2) But subsection (1) does not apply—

a) in the case of a cared-for person under 18 years old, to the extent that the care is or would be provided by virtue of the person's age, or

b) in any case, to the extent that the care is or would be provided—

i) under or by virtue of a contract, or

ii) as voluntary work.

(3) The Scottish Ministers may by regulations—

a) provide that “contract” in subsection (2)(b)(i) does or, as the case may be, does not include agreements of a kind specified in the regulations,

b) permit a relevant authority to disregard subsection (2)(b) where the authority considers that the relationship between the carer and the cared-for person is such that it would be appropriate to do so.

(4) In this Part “relevant authority” means a responsible local authority or a responsible authority (see section 41(1)).

2. Meaning of “adult carer”
